the voters in November 2003. A copy of this resolution is appended to the official minutes of this meeting as Appendix 03-16, II-A-3.

4. Resolution – Mill Levy Election – The Board of Education will consider approving a resolution that will place the issue on the November 2003 Ballot. A copy of this resolution is appended to the official minutes of this meeting as Appendix 03-16, II-A-4.

5. Motion – General Obligation Bond and Mill Levy Proposals – The Board of Education will consider the General Obligation Bond and Mill Levy Proposals presented by staff. A copy of this motion and the Proposals are appended to the official minutes of this meeting as Appendix 03-16, II-A-5.

Dr. Jerry Wartgow, Superintendent, explained the context of the upcoming presentation and reminded everyone that at the last board meeting staff recommended reducing the bond issue planning horizon from five years to three years, so that is what this presentation represents. He said that the Citizens Committee’s list of district needs over the next five years initially totaled $470 million, pared down from well over a billion dollars originally. Given the uncertain economy and enrollment fluctuation, it was believed to be more prudent to reduce the planning horizon to three years.

Dr. Wartgow and staff members Dr. Wayne Eckerling, Assistant Superintendent of Research, Planning and Special Programs; Mr. Mike Langley, Executive Director of Facility Management; and Ms. Sally Mentor Hay, Chief Academic Officer, made a comprehensive presentation to the board detailing the final recommendation for the bond and mill levy proposals. Ms. Gantz Berman pointed out that this recommendation is primarily a product of the Citizens Committee, chaired by Mr. Steve Kaplan, which met for over six months. She thanked him and committee members for their dedication and efforts.

Staff explained item by item the $310,804,000 bond proposal package they presented. In brief, the bond proposal would build two new schools to help the district keep pace with growth, renovate and restore schools, assist two charter schools with construction costs, expand the popular Learning Landscapes, boost technology systems, refinance existing loans, and strengthen core school infrastructures. Bond approval, they said, would yield a new K-8 school in Green Valley, a new K-8 school in Montbello, eight classroom additions at Schenck and Gust elementary schools, and major upgrades of the Fred N. Thomas Career Education Center Middle College of Denver and Byers School, recently vacated by Denver School of the Arts. Some work at North High School and planning for a major renovation also would be included. Dr. Wartgow said that the bond proposal would not require an additional tax increase, but would only continue the existing tax rates.
Staff further advised that a companion $20 million mill levy proposal, if approved by voters, would provide $6.5 million for art and music teachers in elementary schools, $2.5 million to revitalize and reconstitute neighborhood schools, $2 million to increase support for capital investments, $3.5 million for new textbooks, $2 million to support middle and high school reforms, and $3.5 million to expand all-day kindergarten and early childhood education opportunities. Ms. Velma Rose, Chief Financial Officer, said that the $20 million mill levy proposal would mean that the owner of an average $251,000 single-family residence would pay an additional $48 each year, or about 92 cents per week.

Following discussion and requests for clarification by the board members, Mr. Woodward read the following motion:

I move that the Board of Education approve the General Obligation Bond Proposal, 2003-2006, and Mill Levy Proposal as presented, and that the Superintendent be directed to prepare specific ballot language to implement the terms of the proposals for Board of Education consideration at its September 4, 2003, meeting. The motion was seconded.

Ms. Gantz Berman asked whether any board members had additional issues to discuss before calling for a vote on the Motion. Mr. Woodward commented that the Denver Classroom Teachers Association had spoken to him about the possibility of the mill levy proposal including some item to partially overcome the limited salary increase that was given to teachers in the 2003-2004 negotiations. Mr. Woodward indicated that he agreed that teacher compensation is an important factor in attracting and retaining the best teachers. He also commented that he was not happy with the decision that he and the rest of the Board had to make because of the downturn in Colorado’s economy with regard to budget generally and teacher compensation specifically in this year’s budget. However, he did not feel that this was the appropriate time to put teacher compensation into the mill levy proposal. He spoke in favor of the Motion and the mill levy proposal as presented because it was the result of several months of study by the citizens’ committee and because its elements will have the most important impact on children. He committed to work on a macro level to recognize the needs of teachers.

Ms. Gantz Berman added that we value our teachers very highly. We will try to do better for teacher compensation next year recognizing economic realities of school districts and the state.

A roll call vote was recorded, and the motion passed unanimously.
